Kiki Curls helped raise more than $500,000 for legislation legalizing medical marijuana at a fundraising event held at this summer's Buffalo Bills Wild Week. That figure tops the $400,000 that the City of Buffalo had previously announced as the cost for legalization of medical marijuana. "We are thrilled with the support and enthusiasm of everyone who came out to help beat the governor and Jim Kelly for the pro-cannabis constitutional amendment," said Brian Gibson, executive director of Buffalo's Irondequoit Medical Marijuana Group. "It was a night to remember."The event, hosted by Buffalo Marijuana, coincided with the oneyear anniversary of a legislative special session that legalized medical marijuana for patients with certain medical issues. Bills fans were able to purchase four tickets and a meal for $100. The cost for a meal was $400.People who came to the event and those who attended via livestream also raised money for the cause. BMG gave $50 per ticket to people who came and collected $50 for the cause. The MMG will receive a portion of the proceeds from the livestream.Last year, state legislators passed the medical marijuana bill, SB 202, to legalize medical marijuana as a treatment for select conditions. What the medical marijuana bill has not done, however, is legalize recreational marijuana. "This is just the first step. We
