I am trying to use this on my HTC M8 phone but no sound effects come out. Maybe its because its an older phone and maybe its not compatible. I really like this app but if it doesnt work its not worth my time. I am trying to use this on my HTC M8 phone but no sound effects come out. Maybe its because its an older phone and maybe its not compatible. I really like this app but if it doesnt work its not worth my time. Want something for Android but need to buy a license - A Google User If this app has most of the features of a pro version, and you can get it on the app store for $6.99... why not just get the pro version? The whole point of the App. Store is to give it away for free... this is really missing the point. I'm not going to buy something that is not worth the money, but if it would make your product that much better and there was a cheaper version, you should think about it. Don't just give it away for free because you can. Be careful If you buy it, make sure you know what you are getting yourself into. For one, some things are locked to the subscription, if you try to put a watermark, for example, it won't work and they don't offer any support. Secondly, when I say 'locked' I mean the watermark I did put on my image (the watermark was part of the paid version) was disabled. It was suggested to me by the developer (
